

It is a relatively sunny day, and somewhere in the outskirts of Calimero's hometown Valeriano is seen skating around on his skateboard, performing a few tricks and so on. After skating around for a while Valeriano sits down to take a little break.

"Phew, that was great fun! It was quite a change to do some skateboarding outside of the town..." said Valeriano as he keeps sitting next to his skateboard, taking in the surroundings around him.

"Got to admit it's quite nice out here. Not a car or anything such in sight..." said Valeriano. Just a few seconds later he hears singing, which stops after a moment.

"Hm, curious. I thought I heard someone singing... ah well, might just be my imagination." said Valeriano and shrugs it off. He then hears the singing again. Valeriano grows more curious now.

"Where is this voice coming from? I better follow it and see where it leads me!" said Valeriano and walks off with the skateboard under his arm.

The voice seems to be quite some distance away, but yet it sounds like it could be pretty near Valeriano.

"I know I shouldn't be saying this, but the voice I'm hearing now sounds much better compared to Roshita singing in the bathroom. Her at-times pitched voice sometimes makes me feel quite uncomfortable..." said Valeriano as he keeps following the voice.

After having followed the voice for some time Valeriano stumbles upon a house. He goes over to the fence and sees a young, cute chick girl who is tending the flowers in the vast garden outside her house.

"My, that girl is not only cute, but her singing voice is the most beautiful I've ever heard in my life..." said Valeriano while standing at the fence listening to the girl's voice, not able to get it out of his mind. The girl sees Valeriano standing by the fence.

"Oh, hi there!" said the girl and waves at Valeriano.

"Er, h-hi!" said Valeriano and waves at the girl.

"I haven't seen you around here before. Why don't you come over!" said the girl.

"Ok, I will." said Valeriano and goes into the property of her house.

"Could you tell me your name?" asked the girl.

"Oh, I'm Valeriano. I happened to hear your voice while I was out skateboarding. It sounded so beautiful that I just couldn't avoid following it..." said Valeriano. The girl giggles.

"Ha ha, almost everyone are infatuated by my singing!" said the girl.

"Indeed... oh, I almost forgot. What's your name?" asked Valeriano.

"My name's Diana!" said the girl, now known as Diana.

"Diana. That's a beautiful name!" said Valeriano.

"Tee hee, thank you Valeriano." said Diana.

"And a very beautiful garden you've got too!" said Valeriano after taking note of the garden.

"Thanks! I really love taking care of it. So, what are your hobbies and interests?" asked Diana.

"Er, my main interest is skateboarding. But I also happen to run a investigation team known as the Green Team, and I am the main camera man of the group!" said Valeriano.

"Very interesting! So what do you and your team do together?" asked Diana.

"We're basically solving crimes and investigating sites. The cases we're taking on are often very fun and exciting, but they can sometimes be quite dangerous." said Valeriano.

"Which people are part of this team?" asked Diana.

"The Green Team consist of Calimero, Priscilla, myself, Roshita, Piero, and Susie. We've also had four new guys added to the team recently." said Valeriano.

"Oh, I would like to meet them someday!" said Diana.

"So, what are your interests?" asked Valeriano.

"My interests include reading and singing. But my main interest are flowers, and taking care of them." said Diana.

"Do you happen to be interested in skateboarding? Just asking out of curiosity." said Valeriano.

"No. Sports ain't really my thing." said Diana.

"I understand. On the subject of flowers, which flower is your favorite?" asked Valeriano.

"Tulips would be my favorite kind of flower, but I like just about any flower." said Diana.

"Oh yeah, tulips are also one of Priscilla's favorites!" said Valeriano.

"Such a coincidence! I didn't know it was her favorite too. Anyway, do you have any favorite flower of yours?" said Diana.

"Um, my attention often goes towards filming things with my video camera all the time that I really don't have the time to think of any favorite thing of mine. Even so, I do appreciate flowers. I think having flowers around is good for the environment. Same thing can't be said for the town I live in though." said Valeriano.

"So do I. It's a shame that most cities tend to get rid of pretty much every flower around just to build something in their spots." said Diana.

"I agree. But what if there weren't any flowers around at all? What would your opinion be on that?" said Valeriano.

"I'd say, that this planet would feel very desolate without any flowers or nature..." said Diana.

"Yeah, it really would..." said Valeriano.

After having watered the flowers Diana feels it is time for some refreshments, and leads Valeriano to a table and a pair of chairs by the garden.

"Do sit down while I go and get us something to drink. I'll be right back." said Diana.

"Ok." said Valeriano and sits on one of the chairs. He takes a moment to look around, listening to the birds in the trees as they keep chirping.

"Sigh... not only is this flower garden beautiful. Even the house is!... if it weren't for the fact I have to run a investigation team nearly all day, I think I'd move to this place just for the peace and quiet..." said Valeriano and observes the surroundings some more. Diana then returns with two glasses and a jug of raspberry juice in a tray.

"Alright Valeriano, here are the refreshements." said Diana and prepares his juice.

"Thanks Diana!" said Valeriano.

"I see you've been admiring the garden while I was away." said Diana and gives Valeriano his juice glass.

"I sure do. It's so peaceful and tranquil around here. I wish I could move into a house near you." said Valeriano. Diana just giggles upon hearing him say that.

"Of course, I can't just leave my friends behind. They will always be needing me for future investigations, and just leaving my best buddy Calimero behind like that without saying anything wouldn't feel right to me." said Valeriano.

"I understand. Not only do you have a team to keep together, you also have to be there for your friends. How was the raspberry juice by the way?" said Diana.

"It's the sweetest juice I've ever tasted!" said Valeriano as he keeps sipping on the glass in delight.

"Thank you!" said Diana and kisses him on the cheek. "I'm also making the juice myself, using the berries grown and planted in my garden and trees."

"Oh yeah, I've just come to think of it now; tomorrow is my birthday!" said Valeriano.

"Oh my, I really LOVE birthdays!" said Diana.

"Alright. So, if you have the time, would you like to come to my hometown and be there on my birthday?" asked Valeriano.

"Oh, I'd really wanna come! So your birthday is tomorrow, am I right?" said Diana.

"That's right. Oh, another thing... will you sing for me? I just love hearing your voice!" said Valeriano.

"Giggles Sure, I'll sing for you!" said Diana and starts to sing for Valeriano. Her voice is so soothing and beautiful that Valeriano almost drifts off to sleep. Diana notices this but keeps singing for him, knowing that he likes her voice.

After having listened to her performance Valeriano is now heading back home on his skateboard.

"Bye Diana! I hope to see you on my birthday tomorrow!" said Valeriano and waves at her.

"Sure Valeriano! Hope you have a nice birthday, and I hope to be there tomorrow!" said Diana and waves back at Valeriano as he leaves. On his way home he sees Emma sitting on a bench playing her saxophone.

"Hi Emma. Didn't expect to see you around here!" said Valeriano.

"Oh, hello Valeriano!" said Emma and puts the saxophone besides her.

"Were you just jamming to some sort of tune?" asked Valeriano.

"Mainly playing on my saxophone just for a bit of practice. How are you and your friends doing?" said Emma.

"Just fine. But we've been through quite a few adventures as of late." said Valeriano.

"I see!" said Emma.

"So, have you done any more detective work recently?" asked Valeriano.

"My time has gone towards playing tunes at restaurants, parks, bars, and the like. I'm still open to collaborate with you guys should any case fall on you. I'm still adamant on working only at nighttime though, because... well, I don't want the media to find out about my involvement with anything." said Emma.

"Alright. How's your partnership with Elmyra Duff? Still going strong as a duo?" asked Valeriano.

"Still a duo, and we're still jamming it together! Elmyra is also rather fun to be around. She has really changed since she left the Tiny Toons universe." said Emma.

"Alright. Regarding your detective work, I hope that one day you'll take on a decent case!" said Valeriano.

"Right. I also wish you guys luck in your future investigations. Do tell Maya the Bee that I'd like to see her someday!" said Emma.

"I will. Bye Emma!" said Valeriano and starts heading back home on his skateboard.

"Bye Valeriano!" said Emma and waves her hand at him.

Now heading back home, all Valeriano can think about is the girl he just met today.

"Oh, I really hope Diana comes on my birthday. That would be a dream come true for me, to hear her singing for me at the birthday table!" said Valeriano. He then passes by Mimmy White who is just out on a little stroll. Having just seen him pass by makes Mimmy feel curious.

"Who was that boy going past me on a skateboard?" Mimmy asked herself. She then decides to head back the way she came from.

"I better go back to the hotel me and Kitty are currently staying at, but not before I buy the things on the list I wrote down on my note here." said Mimmy and pulls up a note from her pocket.

"These are all the things I've got to buy on my way back home, like toast, cheese, butter, desserts, and the like. I hope the grocery store has all the things on the list..." said Mimmy as she heads back to the town.

Later on, Valeriano has now stopped by the apartment complex he and his friends live in.

"Aah, that singing of hers... Diana's voice is literally living rent free in my head." said Valeriano. He tries to shake it out of his mind and heads inside. In the Green Team's flat, Roshita is seen doing some cleaning around in the apartment. She sees Valeriano coming in by the door.

"Oh hello Valeriano! How was your little skateboarding trip?" asked Roshita.

"Oh, just great! Are the other guys home?" asked Valeriano.

"The others have been out for some time, so it's just been me here for a while." said Roshita.

"Did they tell you why they were going out?" asked Valeriano.

"They wanted to go and attend the opening of a new museum in town. But I'm sure they'll be back in an hour or so." said Roshita.

"Alright. I'm going into my bedroom for a moment, because I have just bought a new objective for my camera." said Valeriano.

"Ok. Whatever you do, DON'T sit in there and film other girl from your bedroom window, because if you do that, I will be VERY MAD at you!" said Roshita.

"Right, right. I promise not to do any of that." said Valeriano and heads inside his bedroom. After closing the door, Valeriano takes his camera and switches out the older objective with the new one he bought.

"Right, let's see if this is any better." said Valeriano and starts filming around in his room. He then films the trees just outside his bedroom window, turning the camera to look at the skies.

"Alright, my first part of the test filming is done. I'll do my next round tomorrow..." said Valeriano and turns off his camera. He lies down on his bed and starts daydreaming about Diana.

"I still can't believe how such a sweet and cute girl can have such a beautiful and soothing voice. It is almost as if she was born to sing!..." said Valeriano and keeps daydreaming of Diana.

"I'd wanna hear her voice again someday... maybe she'll come to my birthday tomorrow..." said Valeriano.

At night, Valeriano wakes up and goes to the kitchen to have himself a glass of water. On his way to the kitchen Valeriano can still hear Diana's singing in his head.

"Aah, that singing... it follows me wherever I go... and I'm still in awe over it..." said Valeriano.

Inside the kitchen, Susie is also shown to have got up to get herself something to drink. Valeriano doesn't see where he's going and bumps into Susie.

"Wha??" said Susie in surprise.

"Oops, sorry Susie." Valeriano apologized.

"Don't worry Greenie, you didn't hurt me in any way. What are you doing up late??" said Susie.

"I'm just gonna fix myself some water." said Valeriano.

"How funny, I've got up for the same reason as you!" said Susie.

"Alright. So, how long till you filled up your glass?" asked Valeriano.

"I've already fixed my water, and I'm now about to start drinking it up." said Susie and moves over to let Valeriano fix himself some water. He doesn't pay much attention to how many times he's turning the handle with cold water, and in seconds he gets his face splashed with water.

"Aagh!!" said Valeriano and quickly turns the tap off.

"Right, I feel I've had enough water by now. That splashing on my face made me no longer feel thirsty..." said Valeriano.

Valeriano then watches as Susie looks inside the refrigerator, plucks out a bottle of cherry soda which is full of sugar. She pours a tiny drop of the soda into her glass. After closing the fridge she starts drinking on her glass on her way out of the kitchen.

"Susie just fixed herself a glass of water, only to have a tiny drop of cherry soda in it?? Sigh... ah well, I suppose we all have different tastes." said Valeriano and walks out of the kitchen to go back to bed.

The next morning Valeriano comes out of the door to the apartment complex. He wants to do some more test filming with his camera to make sure the objective is any good.

"Right, time to do some more filming. It is just me out here right now, so things should be good." said Valeriano and turns on his camera, and starts to do some filming.

At the park, a kitty-like character can be seen rocking on a swing by herself. It is none other than Mimmy. She seems to be in a teeny bit of thought over something.

"I just can't get that green chick out of my mind from the other day... I know I've heard the name "Valeriano" before, but what person this name belongs to, or if that is indeed him, I'm not so sure..." said Mimmy while she keeps rocking on the swing.

Meanwhile, Valeriano is now test filming around the park, and so far he seems rather pleased with his new objective.

"This new objective is so much better compared to the old one, and it captures things in much sharper detail! I can even see the edges of the leaves on the trees!" said Valeriano. He turns the camera to the right, and within the camera lense's viewpoint the first thing Valeriano sees is Mimmy.

"Hi there!!" shouted Mimmy while waving at him.

"Waah!!" Valeriano got startled and almost drops his camera. After calming down and getting his bearings Valeriano walks over to the rocking swings.

"Who are you, and what are you doing here at the park?" asked Valeriano. Mimmy then gets off the rocking swing.

"Well, I'm... I'm Mimmy, and I decided to just go outside and... have some fun on the swings here, seeing as things are rather quiet this morning." said Mimmy.

"I haven't seen you around here before. When did you first arrive in this town?" said Valeriano.

"Me and my sister Kitty left our home place to see some new sights. We've been to France already, and this country, Italy, is our next stop. We don't yet know for how long we will be here." said Mimmy.

"I see." said Valeriano.

"By the way, I saw you passing by while I was on my stroll the other day. Could you tell me your name?" said Mimmy.

"Oh, right. My name's Valeriano." said Valeriano.

"So that's your name! Wow, I never thought I'd ever meet you!" said Mimmy.

"Why is that so special?" asked Valeriano.

"You see, me and my sister were out on a café bar one night where we met a pair of chicks named Calimero and Priscilla. They spoke about a buddy of theirs whose name was Valeriano, and now I see you standing in front of me, which is absolutely great!" said Mimmy excitedly while also blushing.

"Ah, now I see why you think it is so special that my name is Valeriano! Me also thinks it is great that we now have come to meet!" said Valeriano.

"Yes! So tell me, unless I'm wrong, you are the main camera man of the Green Team, aren't you?" asked Mimmy.

"I am, but... how do you know of our investigation team??" asked Valeriano.

"Giggles Calimero and Priscilla told me and Kitty about it. Now, I wonder... if you would find it ok that we join you on your investigations someday?" said Mimmy. Valeriano thinks it over for a bit.

"Hm... ok, you're more than welcome to join us whenever you feel ready!" said Valeriano.

"How great! That will be fun!" said Mimmy and gives Valeriano a hug as her way of saying thanks.

"What's going on here??" said someone, whose voice reminds Valeriano of a certain bossy chick. He turns around to see Roshita standing before him, not looking the least pleased.

"You promised me to not be filming any girls, and yet you keep doing it! You lied to me about it!" Roshita told him off.

"But I wasn't filming any girls Roshita! And what are you doing out here so early?!" said Valeriano.

"I was just getting up from bed. Looking out of my window while stretching my arms, the first thing I saw was YOU chatting away with this girl besides you! Who is she by the way? Don't tell me there's something going on between you two!" said Roshita.

"Her name is Mimmy, and we've only just met! It's impossible that a relationship would start between us THAT quickly!!" said Valeriano.

"He's right! Just so you know... NOTHING is going on between us!" Mimmy came to his defense.

"Aha, so why was she hugging you then?" Roshita asked Valeriano.

"She was just hugging me as a way of thanking me for letting Mimmy and her sister join our investigation team!" said Valeriano.

"She... she has a sister??" asked Roshita.

"Yeah, Kitty is my twin sister. By the way, I already have a boyfriend of my own named Robert." said Mimmy. Now realizing her error, Roshita starts to apologize.

"I-I'm really sorry. I didn't know you already had a boyfriend! And I'm sorry for misunderstanding the entire situation." said Roshita.

"It's ok Roshita. I... I'm also sorry for making it look like I was trying to... well, hit on him." said Mimmy.

"You certainly weren't Mimmy! And as for what we were doing, we were simply talking." said Valeriano.

"I understand. Don't worry, I'll leave you be. Oh, by the way Valeriano... how do you want your birthday to be like?" said Roshita.

"Well, a big cake would be great, along with a small birthday party." said Valeriano.

"It's his birthday today?? That sounds fun!!" said Mimmy and gets a bit excited.

"It is indeed my boyfriend's birthday today! Would you and your sister like to come?" said Roshita.

"I absolutely want to! I'll go home and tell my sister about it!" said Mimmy and runs off.

"Ok, bye for now Mimmy!" said Valeriano.

"Bye Mimmy!" said Roshita.

Later in the morning Calimero and friends have been in the park preparing for Valeriano's birthday.

"Ok, the table and decorations are done! Now what about the presents? I've already got my present for him, but what about you guys?" said Roshita.

"I have mine here." said Calimero.

"Mine's with me as well!" said Priscilla.

"Mine is standing just besides me." said Susie.

"As for me, um..." said Piero and roots in his pockets.

"Sorry guys, but I seem to have forgot my present in the flat. I'll be back!" said Piero and goes back up to their flat to look for his present for Valeriano.

"The decorations are just SO beautiful!" said Priscilla as she admires the table in front of them all.

"When do you think the cake will be coming?" Calimero asked Roshita.

"Hopefully before Valeriano comes back." Roshita told the others.

"I can only wonder how this birthday day will turn out..." said Susie to herself.

Meanwhile, Valeriano is walking around the town filming with his camera. He first sees Graziella, the girl VARIO rescued the second time around. He then see Mr. Critichelli standing by the wall of a building reading a paper.

"There is Mr. Critichelli! I wonder what he's up to now..." said Valeriano and starts filming him. While he is reading the paper a fly starts to irritate Critichelli.

"Hey you, go and pester someone else. Shoo, shoo!" said Critichelli and starts waving with his hand at it, but it only keeps flying in front of his eyes, irritating Critichelli even more. Critichelli tries to slap the fly with his hands, but just ends up hurting his beak while the fly just flies away.

"Yeow!!" said Critichelli. Valeriano pulls his camera down and laughs at Critichelli. The latter sees him and just snorts, and walks away while holding his beak. Valeriano then stops laughing.

"Pha hah hah... he sure is quite fun to watch sometimes!... right, back to filming." said Valeriano.

Valeriano carries on filming around the town. He films places where the construction of new facilities and houses are going on. Hearing a seagull fly just above him, Valeriano points the camera up and films the seagull as it flies across the skies. After having done that he pulls the camera down again.

"Sigh. How great it would feel to just fly above everything, not bound to just be on the ground all the time." said Valeriano. The battery on his camera then starts to die out.

"Aw, there goes the battery again! I must say that the battery keeps getting worse for each day or week." said Valeriano. Feeling that his test filming across town is done, Valeriano starts heading back home.

Elsewhere, Kitty and Mimmy are seen walking together with a pair of presents in their hands. They are heading for the place where Calimero and his friends live.

"I can't believe today is the birthday of someone I haven't met yet! But I'm sure it will be fun!" said Kitty.

"I think the same Kitty. I'm only happy to be there on Valeriano's birthday." said Mimmy.

"Coming to think of it. How is this Valeriano person like? Is he nice?" Kitty asked her sister.

"I believe he's quite nice. In fact, he seemed rather friendly when I talked to him earlier." said Mimmy.

They keep walking, and a moment later Kitty and Mimmy arrive in the park. Seeing Kitty and Mimmy having just arrived, Priscilla welcomes them.

"Hi there Kitty and Mimmy! Glad you could make it!" said Priscilla.

"Why wouldn't we. Me and Mimmy have also got some presents for Valeriano." said Kitty.

"How thoughtful of you! I'm sure Valeriano will like them." said Priscilla.

"Thanks for coming, you two! Also, I'm sorry for assuming that my boyfriend was sneaking out with another girl. I didn't realize she was your sister." Roshita told Kitty.

"Ha ha, you don't need to apologize. Mimmy's already told me about it. Besides, you didn't know about it before hand." said Kitty.

"And I've also got a present which I think Valeriano will like!" said Mimmy and shows the present.

"Hm..." said Roshita, who is starting to turn a bit suspicious upon seeing Mimmy's present.

"No need to be jealous or anything. I just wanna be nice to Valeriano!" said Mimmy.

"Right, sorry... I just get so jealous when Valeriano's attention is on other girls, especially if they give him presents better than mine." said Roshita. Kitty pats her on the back.

"I'm sure it's all gonna work out just fine Roshita. Remember, Valeriano is your boyfriend, Robert is Mimmy's boyfriend. Also, no present is going to be any better than what you yourself will give to Valeriano. I'm sure he'll also appreciate your present." said Kitty.

"... you're right Kitty. I need to stop being so jealous all the time..." said Roshita.

"Oh, hi Valeriano!" said Mimmy and waves her hand at him.

"Hi everyone, I'm back. And hi to you Mimmy!" said Valeriano and waves his hand at her.

"About time you came back my birthday boy! Kitty and Mimmy are also here." said Roshita.

"Yep. I'm back from my little trip around town with my camera. The battery died just after I filmed my very last sights, so I thought I might as well go back home." said Valeriano.

"Ah, figures. That camera of yours must be in poor shape by now." said Roshita.

"It sure is... and the girl with the red bow is Kitty, I assume?" said Valeriano.

"That's me. Pleased to meet you Valeriano." said Kitty.

"And I'm pleased to meet you too." said Valeriano.

"So, what'd you think of the birthday table here? It looks nice, doesn't it?" said Roshita.

"It really does! And a very nice cake too!" said Valeriano.

"Now now. Before we sit down at the table to sample the cake, why don't you and Calimero do some stunts on the skateboard ramp first?" said Roshita.

"You're right Roshita. It's best to work up an appetite. I also haven't got anything else on mind, so why not." said Valeriano and goes in to get his skateboard.

"Is Valeriano really into skateboarding?" Kitty asked the others.

"He is absolutely into it. Skateboarding is one of Valeriano's favorite outdoor activities." said Calimero.

"I remember seeing Valeriano passing by riding on a skateboard, so I definitely believe that he does skateboarding!" said Mimmy.

"Do you girls also do skateboarding?" asked Priscilla.

"Me and Mimmy do all sorts of stuff, be it skateboarding or anything else. My main interest though, is something similar, but yet different." said Kitty and giggles a little.

"And what is that?" asked Priscilla.

"You'll see it for yourselves soon." said Kitty, refusing to elaborate on it any more for the moment.

A while later, Calimero and Valeriano are now standing on top of the skateboard ramp. Valeriano goes first, with Calimero starting after him. As they both do stunts with their skateboards on the ramp Kitty and Mimmy starts clapping their hands, being amazed at their performance.

"Wow, that looks soo great!" said Kitty.

"It does! I wish I could do something like that..." said Mimmy.

Kitty is feeling so excited that she runs off. Priscilla and the others are simply confused over why Kitty just ran off like that. A moment later Kitty returns again, now with a helmet on her head and roller blades on her feet.

"There she comes again!" said Susie.

"Are you into rollerblading, seeing as you have roller blades on your feet?" asked Roshita.

"Yes, I've done it for a very long time. Just seeing Calimero and Valeriano skating on the ramp made me wanna give it a try too." said Kitty.

"Alright. Let's see it then!" said Priscilla.

"Do you want to join me, Mimmy?" Kitty asked Mimmy.

"Um, no thanks. I'd rather wanna be on the ground for now..." Mimmy declined.

"Ok then. Maybe next time." said Kitty and goes to the skateboard ramp.

"Why aren't you taking part in it Mimmy?" asked Priscilla.

"I... I'm not much of a sports person. I prefer baking and reading books." said Mimmy.

"I see. But you do sports as well. At least that's what your sister told us." said Priscilla.

"I do... but I'm not always good at it. I tend to get very nervous when it comes to sports..." said Mimmy.

Back at the ramp, Calimero and Valeriano have just sat themselves down to take a little rest.

"That was good fun!" said Calimero.

"Yeah! Having done all this skating on the ramp has made me work up an appetite!" said Valeriano.

"Hi guys! Have you got room for one more sports fanatic?" said Kitty, now standing before them on her roller skates and helmet.

"What are you doing up here? Besides, you're a girl..." said Valeriano.

"Valeriano!! You know very well that it isn't just boys who uses the skateboard ramp! Remember when Susie was on it last time?" said Calimero.

"Um... yeah, she seemed to do it just fine, if I recall correctly. She even got the better of me..." Valeriano admitted.

"See? That alone is proof that even girls can do sports. We should let Kitty have a go too." said Calimero.

"Alright, my bad..." said Valeriano.

"I'm sorry Kitty. Valeriano sometimes tends to believe that skateboarding is for boys only, but I'm sure that's not the case." said Calimero.

"That's ok Calimero. I can handle stuff like that just fine. In fact, this isn't the first time I'm being told that something is only for boys." said Kitty.

"Alright. Why are you wearing roller blades by the way?" said Calimero.

"I'm very fond of roller blades. I've been doing it for very long, so I have certainly built up some skills!" said Kitty.

"Alright then. Maybe show us what you've got?" asked Valeriano.

"I certainly will." said Kitty and goes to the edge of the ramp.

Kitty stands still for a moment at the edge, takes a deep breath, and after a few seconds rolls down the ramp. She shows the other guys her moves by doing all kinds of stunts like spinning, doing multiple somersaults in the air, and doing karate kicks while going up and down the ramp.

"Woow, I've never seen anyone do anything like that!!" said Valeriano in amazement.

"Neither have I. It is clear that Kitty has been doing roller blades for years!" said Calimero who is equally amazed at Kitty's performance.

"I feel I can do better!" said Valeriano and takes his skateboard and starts to skate down the ramp.

"Prepare to see my awesome spinning move!" said Valeriano and goes up the other side of the ramp, and attempts to do his spinning stunt with the skateboard while in the air. He misses the timing though and starts to fall.

"Oh no!" said Kitty.

"Valeriano!!" said Calimero.

The other guys on the ground below also sees Valeriano about to fall, and fears for the worst to happen. As Valeriano is falling he then lands in the hands of somebody.

"Phew. Thought I was gonna be a goner there for a second..." said Valeriano. The person who caught him is revealed to be none other than Diana, the young little girl Valeriano met the other day.

"Diana!" said Valeriano in surprise.

"Hi Valeriano. I saw you falling off the ramp. I couldn't let you just fall and get hurt, so I came to your rescue, tee hee..." said Diana.

"Who is that girl, and why is she holding Valeriano?" said Roshita with a bit of jealousy in her tone.

"Come on, you saw it clearly, didn't you??" asked Piero.

"I think what Piero tries to say here, is that this girl must have seen his fall, and ran off to catch him to prevent him from hurting himself. At least, that's what I think happened." Susie explained.

"I suppose you may be right Susie, but still..." said Roshita.

"Guys, this is the girl I met yesterday!" said Valeriano.

"Hi there. My name is Diana. Valeriano here met me at my house the other day because he heard my singing while I was doing my gardening." said Diana.

"Only thing I wonder is... is there anything going on between you two?" asked Roshita.

"Not at all. We are simply friends with each other." Diana assured her.

"Ok. My apologies. Just wanted to make sure... ok everyone, time for the birthday party!!" said Roshita.

"What is all this about??" Diana asked Valeriano.

"Well, Roshita tend to be rather jealous and suspicious when she sees me being with another girl besides the ones already in the group." Valeriano explained.

"Te he... well, no matter. Let's go and celebrate your birthday, shall we! I certainly didn't forget about your birthday, and I intended to come over while I was going out to deliver a basket of flowers to the flower shop in town." said Diana and goes with Valeriano to the birthday table.

"So you remembered my birthday after all?" said Valeriano.

"I did!" said Diana and gives him a kiss on the cheek.

Later on, Valeriano's birthday party has been in full swing, and is almost nearing its end. One of the last things left is the presents.

"Ok everyone. With things coming to an end, I think it's time for Valeriano to open his presents! Calimero is first." said Roshita.

"Here you go Valeriano!" said Calimero and hands him the present.

"Wow, thanks buddy!" said Valeriano and opens the present.

"Yes, it's a new skateboard!!" said Valeriano.

"Well, I took note of the various moments you kept lamenting over how your old skateboard was getting a bit rusty and the decorations withering away, so I bought a new one, just for you." said Calimero.

"Thanks Calimero! You really are a true friend!" said Valeriano.

"Here comes your present from me!" said Priscilla and hands it over to him.

"Wow, a new part for my chemistry set!! I always thought that the chemistry set I had seemed to be missing something, and now I have the complete set! Thanks Priscilla for remembering it!" said Valeriano. Priscilla just blushes in response. Valeriano then opens Susie's present.

"Great, a new jacket, and in the same color as the one I'm wearing now!" said Valeriano.

"I'm not sure how many of these you've got, but it's always best to have more in reserve." said Susie.

"I've got like 3 or 4 of these, but thanks anyway Susie!" said Valeriano.

"It's nothing really..." said Susie.

"Piero, have you got any present for me?" Valeriano asked him.

"I have, but... I'm not sure if it really is what you wanted." said Piero and hands Valeriano the present.

"No worries Piero, I'm sure it'll be something..." said Valeriano while opening the present, only to see something that perplexes him.

"A blow whistle??" asked Valeriano.

"Yeah. I thought maybe you have told me off enough times with just words by now, so I thought that using a whistle could maybe liven things up a little." said Piero while still feeling a bit unsure of himself.

"Um... thanks, I guess." said Valeriano.

"I knew it'd be a bad choice..." said Piero to himself.

"No Piero. This is just what I need! I'll make sure to put it to good use." said Valeriano and puts the whistle aside.

"I actually bought it not necessarily for Valeriano's enjoyment, but to have myself reminded whenever I pull a bad comment or something..." Piero said quietly to himself.

"And now, a present from me to my little birthday boy!" said Roshita.

"Hm, I wonder what it could be." said Valeriano and takes the present.

"Do open it, because I think I've got something that you'd REALLY like." said Roshita.

Valeriano opens the present, and after unwrapping it he finds that it is a new video camera.

"Wow, a new video camera!! I always wanted a new one because my old camera has been acting strange in recent times, like refusing to turn off or on when pressing the power button. Thanks Roshita!" said Valeriano and hugs Roshita.

"He he. I knew that he always wanted a new camera on his birthday, and I'm glad he really likes it... and for giving me a hug as well!" said Roshita. Seeing Valeriano being happy about all the presents he's got, Mimmy starts to worry.

"Ooh, I'm very nervous now Kitty..." said Mimmy.

"Why?" asked Kitty.

"I... I'm worried that Valeriano won't like my present!" said Mimmy and starts to cry while feeling nervous.

"Don't worry Mimmy, I'm sure Valeriano WILL appreciate your gift." said Kitty.

"Alright. Are there any more presents for me, or is it all done?" asked Valeriano.

"Oh, yes. I almost forgot... here's my gift to you! Hope you'll like it." said Kitty and gives him her present.

"A heart-shaped chocolate box! That's very sweet of you Kitty!" said Valeriano. Kitty lets out a little giggle upon hearing this.

"Um... H-here's your present Valeriano... I... hope you'll like it..." said a nervous Mimmy as she gives him his present.

"Aw, no need to be so nervous. I'm sure it'll be something very nice!" said Valeriano and starts opening it.

"I-I can't look..." said Mimmy and covers her eyes with her hands, not daring to look.

"Oh, Mimmy..." said Kitty and does her best to console her sister. The others in the group takes note of Mimmy's now strong nervousity that wasn't there before.

"I've never seen anyone feeling so insecure like Mimmy." said Susie.

"Yeah. She is very different to her sister Kitty, who is more confident and outgoing." said Calimero. Priscilla goes over to Mimmy's seat to give her a hug.

"Now Mimmy, no need to be nervous. I'm sure Valeriano will like your present." said Priscilla.

"P-promise??" said Mimmy.

"Promise." said Priscilla while still hugging Mimmy.

After Valeriano has opened the present, he is feeling a bit surprised to find a fruit pie in there.

"A fruit pie? Is this for me Mimmy?" asked Valeriano. Mimmy then peeks her eyes up a little.

"Yes, I made it especially for you." said Mimmy.

Valeriano takes the spoon he used for eating the cake with earlier and samples the pie.

"Well... how did it taste like?" asked Mimmy.

"Absolutely brilliant and sweet! It's the best pie I've ever eaten in my whole life!" said Valeriano with delight.

"Oh, thank you!!" said a now relieved Mimmy and happily hugs Valeriano, with the latter doing the same. The others in the Green Team group also decide to sample the pie.

"This is so good!" said Calimero.

"What a delight!" said Priscilla.

"Wonderful!!" said Roshita.

In fact, everyone in the group likes Mimmy's pie. Kitty hugs her sister with proudness.

"See Mimmy. I knew your pie would be a hit with everyone here!" said Kitty.

"Thanks Kitty." said Mimmy.

"Say, haven't we forgotten someone here?" asked Priscilla.

"Oh yeah... Diana, have you got any presents for me?" asked Valeriano.

"Yes. This is a present, from me to you..." said Diana and stands up from her chair. She then starts singing the "Happy Birthday" tune for him, with the voice that made Valeriano fall for her in the first place.

"Aaw... even though I've got presents that made me more than happy, nothing really beats hearing a young girl's singing voice... along with Mimmy's fruit pie, that one was also a delight." said Valeriano as he keeps being lulled by Diana's voice. Not only is Valeriano in awe over her singing, but so is everyone else, including Roshita who was initially jealous of her.

"Aaw, I now understand why Valeriano really likes this girl... her singing is just so... soothing and beautiful... even better than my own singing in the bathroom." said Roshita.

"You don't like your own singing voice??" said Susie.

"Not really. It sounds far too pitched at times... but I keep singing anyway because I like doing it." said Roshita. The scene switches to a view of the entire birthday table where everyone is sitting. As they all listen to Diana's singing the scene starts fading to black, signifying the end of the story.

The End...
