

It is daytime in town, and Calimero and friends are out walking. They are apparently on their way to the Music Theatre in town.

"It sure is going to be very interesting to see Emma perform at the Music Theatre." said Calimero.

"I agree. But Emma has said she and her band will only be playing their music there, so it won't be a fully blown theatre we're attending." said Priscilla.

"Which I guess is more or less her style; simply playing her music for others. Emma's band is also very popular in this town these days." said Roshita.

"I think the music is going to turn spectacular! What more, it will also be the perfect opportunity for me to film an event as big as this one!" said Valeriano.

"It is indeed a big day for Emma. In fact, she has been practising with her band for a veery long time on a new song of theirs. I'm very keen to hear it for myself." said Maya.

"I can only wonder what strange stuff would be going on today..." VARIO wondered.

"Come on VARIO, I'm sure nothing weird will be happening. Today we'll be out just listening to some good music... at least I think the music will turn out good." said Warrio.

Later at the Music Theatre, Calimero and friends have just gotten their tickets and heads inside. After Maya has gotten her ticket it is Wario-Ware-Man & siblings' turn.

"Ok guys, I've paid for a ticket for all three of us because I'm the only one to have my wallet with me, and also to prevent any of us from falling behind." said Wario-Ware-Man.

"That's nice of you Wario-Ware-Man." said Warrio.

"It's a relief I don't have to care for a ticket that's bound to fall from my hands all the time..." said VARIO.

"Yeah. Anyway, we better get in now, or our seats may very well be taken." said Wario-Ware-Man and heads inside the building with his brothers.

VARIO doesn't see where he's going though and ends up bumping into the back of a big Woodster wearing shades and a hat, and smoking a cigar.

"Oops..." said VARIO.

"Hey you. Was it YOU who bumped into me?" asked the Woodster.

"Er... y-yeah, it w-w-was m-me..." VARIO nervously answered.

"Oh, alright..." said the Woodster and looks like he's leaving VARIO be. The camera pans to the left and a punching sound is heard. VARIO then comes from the right side of the screen with only his mustache and cap where his head should be, waddling his way to the seats where he and his brothers will be sitting.

Meanwhile, Calimero and friends have just met up with Emma. She is wearing the hat and shades she always has when touring around with her band.

"It's good you guys came to see me perform along with my band!" said Emma.

"Yeah. We just couldn't pass up on the opportunity to see one of our best buddies perform at the Music Theatre, and I certainly wouldn't want to miss out on capturing the performance on video." said Valeriano.

"And it's good that I get to see you again. You look absolutely phenomenal in those shades and hat, and that red dress of yours only compliments it all!" said Maya.

"Te he, thanks Maya." said Emma.

"Where's your partner by the way?" asked Calimero.

"Oh, she's around here somewhere... hello partner, come over here for a moment will you!!" Emma called out to her partner. Before Calimero and friends' eyes they see Elmyra Duff in her black jacket and skirt, wearing red mary-janes shoes on her feet, and carrying her bass guitar on her shoulder. Like Emma she is also wearing shades.

"Hi there guys! You wanna see us perform today, am I right??" said Elmyra.

"You bet we are!" said Valeriano.

"My goodness... you look absolutely GORGEOUS Elmyra!" said Priscilla after taking notice of her outfit.

"Te hee. Thanks cute little birdie!" Elmyra thanked her for the compliment.

"Elmyra has been practising on her riffs with the guitar as of late. I'm sure that what she has to add to the music will be absolutely super!" said Emma.

"You're right, my red dressed music gal! My riffs will be sure to compliment the main tune we will be playing pretty soon!" said Elmyra.

"I can't believe that a nuthead like Elmyra Duff even got the position as the guitarist of a band..." Warrio said to himself.

"Warrio!!" Wario-Ware-Man told him off.

"giggles that's right! And don't worry, I don't mind his comment in the slightest." said Elmyra.

"Either way, we'll now be heading off to our seats. We wish you guys the best of luck with the play!" said Maya and heads with the other guys to their seats.

"It's sure to be turning out pretty well, and I hope you'll be enjoying it too!" said Emma.

At their seats, Calimero and the group have now seated themselves to the right of where Wario-Ware-Man and his siblings will be sitting, with Maya sandwiched between them. The rest of the public appears to consist mainly of Dumb-Crows and Woodsters.

"Hm, VARIO seems to be late..." said Maya, noticing the empty seat between her and Warrio.

"Maybe he's gone off to buy himself some snacks or something." said Warrio.

VARIO then arrives just in time, still appearing the same way he did after the Woodster punched him.

"Ah, there you are!" said Wario-Ware-Man after seeing VARIO.

"What's happened to your head??" asked Warrio in surprise.

"I... bumped into a Woodster on my way with you guys, and he tucked my head down my shirt in response." said VARIO, with his head then popping back out of the shirt, and his mustache and cap landing in their right places afterwards.

"So, has the band started yet?" asked VARIO.

"It's about to start in any minute, so nothing has been missed." said Wario-Ware-Man.

"Well, good I managed to get here in time despite not being able to see much with my head tucked down..." said VARIO.

"Do you find your seat good Valeriano?" Calimero asked Valeriano, only to see him standing up on his seat filming the stage in front of them.

"giggles That's why Valeriano is our camera man! He's always on the move, ready for a big scoop!" said Priscilla.

"Exactly! I can barely wait to get this entire performance on tape!" said Valeriano and keeps filming.

At the stage itself, the curtains now unfold, with Emma and the band appearing before the public's eyes.

"Thanks everyone for coming today! We've been working a very long time on this piece, and I hope the tune we're about to play will be to your satisfaction." said Emma. Just after saying this Elmyra Duff comes on stage with her bass guitar, panting.

"There you are Elmyra. Where have you been??" asked Emma.

"I just had to fix a stray bit of hair peeking out... anyway, I'm more than ready now to show you all my bass guitar playing skills!" said Elmyra.

With the entire now assembled on stage, Emma and the rest of the members starts playing their tune. It appears to be an instant hit with everyone despite it only just being the beginning.

"Wow! We've said it before, but I'll say it again; Emma sure knows a thing or two about music!" said Calimero in awe.

"Agreed. This is the best music I've ever heard in my life!" said Roshita.

"That's Emma alright! My, I just can't stop snapping my fingers to it." said Maya while snapping her fingers to the the music.

"Sorry if I'm the one to break the moment, but... ,may I leave my seat for a moment??" VARIO asked his siblings, feeling the need to go to the toilets.

"Of course you can. Do remember to get back here in time so you don't miss the rest of the music." said Wario-Ware-Man.

While VARIO is leaving for the toilets the camera pans over to a lone girl among the Dumb-Crows and Woodsters. It is none other than one of the most off-beat, yet charismatic and sensible detectives, Mackenzie. While she remains mute, she none the less notes down on her book about her experience at the Music Theatre. She does seem to be liking the music as well since she's seen bopping her head back and forth a little.

On one of the balconys above the stage another girl with blonde hair and pigtails, blue shirt with an "8" on the chest and shoulders, and dark blue pants, are seen sitting by herself looking out with a pair of binoculars. Her name is Pixeline from the titular series of danish childrens edutainment PC games and media.

"Things seems pretty exciting so far, and the music playing is really top notch!" said Pixeline as she keeps looking at the stage with her binoculars.

"I regret not taking my little brother, Lillebror, to this theatre. But I promise to make it up to him by taking him with me next time." said Pixeline.

VARIO meanwhile, has just returned from the toilets and are about to go back to his seat, only to see someone right in front of him, facing away.

"Hm, that dude sure looks quite familiar to me. Could it possibly be... Suzana?! She's obviously uninvited to this music theatre, and knowing her, Suzana's intent is only to cause trouble around here!" said VARIO.

"Huh? What are YOU doing around here??" said Suzana after turning around to see him.

"And WHAT do you think you're up to this time?" VARIO asked her with demand.

"Oh, I'm just here to try and spice up the performance a bit, in my own special way!" said Suzana.

"I really don't like the thought of whatever you mean by that, but I WILL none the less stop you before you can even do anything!" VARIO told her.

"Ha-ha, try and catch me you ghostly little fatso! You'll have NO chance of stopping me!" said Suzana and runs off.

"Oh yeah?? We'll see about it!! ... my garlic, it sure is my plight to make sure Suzana doesn't ruin the music performance!" said VARIO and starts to run after her. But Suzana has already disappeared and VARIO has a hard time finding her.

"My garlic, where has she gone to?? She surely can't be THAT quick on her feet!" VARIO said and keeps looking for Suzana. He then looks up and sees Suzana walking on the platform far up above the stage.

"Hm, Suzana must have used the ladder to get up there. I guess it's the only way up..." said VARIO and climbs up the ladder next to him. He only ends up climbing into another room above.

Still focused on the ladder, a lot of screams and slapping can be heard. VARIO then comes down again with his cap ripped apart and having been slapped silly on his face. VARIO shakes his head, reverting it to its normal shape.

At the bottom of the ladder VARIO throws away the pieces of his old "W" cap and pulls out an new and identical one from the pocket of his pants, and puts it on his head.

"Why is there a ladder leading UP to a womens' changing room?? Anyway, I better focus on the matter at hand; stopping Suzana from ruining Emma's performance!" said VARIO and tries to look for another way up. Spotting a lifting truck next to the ladder, VARIO believes she must have used that instead of a ladder. VARIO boards the platform of the lifting truck and uses the attached remote control to raise himself up.

"Alright Suzana, your days of sabotaging stuff will be over in a flash!!" said VARIO as he keeps going up. After reaching the platform above the stage the platform on the truck goes down again after VARIO gets off of it. He is quick to realize that this is the place where stage props are often hidden until needed.

"Yikes. This sure is no place to mess around at, what with all the background props and such hanging around here!" said VARIO and keeps looking around. Just in front of him he sees Suzana cutting the rope to something.

"Just what is she doing?" said VARIO and looks up to where a background prop is hanging. He then looks down to where Emma and her band are playing.

"Aw no, the prop is sure to fall down on them if I don't do something!!" said VARIO and tries to stop Suzana from cutting the rope. But she has already cut the rope completely and the prop is about to fall. VARIO grabs the rope in time though.

"Hah, got it!!" said VARIO and tries his best to keep holding the rope. Suzana just laughs at his feeble little attempt to prevent it from falling.

"Ha ha hah, it is rather foolish of you to try and prevent a loose prop from falling!" said Suzana. With the camera now focused on VARIO, he feels his rear being kicked from behind. He falls down with the prop as Suzana keeps laughing at him.

"Have a nice fall to stardom, ha-ha-ha-ha!!" said Suzana as she keeps laughing.

Down at the stage, the music performance is in full swing, and Emma and her band are having a blast with it all so far. Just then VARIO falls through the floor in the background, with the prop he held onto coming down at him, causing a bit of noise. Fortunately the music drowns out most of the background noise, but it none the less catches Emma's attention.

"Hm? What was the noise about??" Emma thought in her mind and looks behind her while still playing her saxophone to see what the noise was about. Not seeing anything, Emma keeps playing the music along with her band.

Behind the stage, VARIO gets out of the hole in the floor and dusts himself off.

"Thank garlie the music didn't get disrupted by all the racket! Even so, I have a feeling Suzana's not done with her antics just yet!" said VARIO and runs behind the stage to get himself back up to the platform above. On their seats, Priscilla has just heard the racket going on.

"What is going on? And why is VARIO running behind the stage towards a lift truck?" Priscilla wondered.

"What are you saying Priscilla? I can't hear due to the music!" said Calimero.

"Um... will you guys excuse me for a moment? I need to go and clear my head for a little while!" Priscilla excused herself and leaves her seat.

"Ok. But don't take too long, or you'll be missing the rest of the performance!" said Valeriano.

At the lift truck, VARIO is now seen having just boarded the lift and is about to go up again. Before he can do it though he is interrupted by Priscilla.

"What are you doing VARIO??" asked Priscilla.

"Oh, hi Priscilla... well, Suzana is back again, and is up to her usual no-good!" said VARIO.

"Really? How do you know??" asked Priscilla with curiosity.

"Look up to the platform above to see for yourself!" said VARIO.

Priscilla looks up to the platform above the stage, and already sees Suzana standing up there, looking like she's about to plan something extremely awful.

"Gasp I can't believe that my look-alike has already got out of prison again!" Priscilla gasped.

"I should also add, that she is planning on ruining Emma's music performance by spicing it up in her own "special way", as she phrased it to me." said VARIO.

"How bold of her! I just can't believe that Suzana is now going at such lengths to commit bad acts instead of just stealing things!!" said Priscilla.

"I can only say the same as you." said VARIO.

"I'll help you stop her. Together we shall take Suzana back to the place she belongs to!" said Priscilla and boards the lift, after which VARIO presses the remote to go up.

Back up on the platforms above, Suzana already seems to be planning her next move to "spice up the performance".

"Right, with that oaf gone, I can now carry out my newest plan. It is already complete. Just need to adjust a few things first..." said Suzana and keeps messing some more with her thing.

"But not for long!!" said a voice reminding Suzana of VARIO.

"Well well, I applaud you for surviving the fall, but you're too late. I'm now about to make my next move to spice things up!!" said Suzana.

"Care to elaborate a bit over what your new plan is?" VARIO asked. Suzana just points to a gramophone with two big speakers connected to it.

"Even though she's not saying anything, I can already tell that Suzana is going to blast music at the highest possible volume, possibly ruining the performance!!" VARIO gasped.

"That is indeed my plan, VARIO. Now I'm just going to turn on the music for you all to hear..." said Suzana and proceeds to turn on the gramophone. Before she can even do it Priscilla jumps at Suzana from behind.

"Oh no, you wont!!!" Priscilla said as she pins Suzana down on the floor.

"Let go of me you stupid little brat!!" said Suzana and tries to free herself.

"I won't let go of you at any time. Even if you so decide to give up, I still won't let go of you!" said Priscilla.

"Aha, then what do you say about this!!" said Suzana and rolls over to pin Priscilla down on the floor instead.

"Aah!! ... y-you won't beat me that easily!" said Priscilla and tries to roll over to pin Suzana down, but is still held in place by Suzana.

"Realize it, little pipsqueak! You're the one to be seeing yourself getting beaten by me!!" said Suzana and tries to punch Priscilla, but Priscilla blocks Suzana's fist with her hand.

"Hah! I'm not as weak as you think I am!!" said Priscilla and starts to wrestle with Suzana.

A rolling fight between Priscilla and Suzana now ensues, rolling and wrestling each other to try and pin the other one down. They don't see where they're rolling though and bumps into VARIO.

"H-hey, watch it ladies!!" said VARIO and starts stumbling backwards towards a stray bag sitting at the edge of the platform. VARIO bumps into it and falls down along with the bag.

VARIO lands on the floor at the bottom, hurting his behind a bit. The bag then lands in front of him just a distance away, making one of the planks in the floor topple over due to the weight, sending VARIO up again. Back up on the platforms, Priscilla has now gotten Suzana pinned down on the floor.

"Hah, looks like it is YOU who's going to be beaten now!" said Priscilla.

"You may wish that... in your dreams!!" said Suzana and tries to wrestle Priscilla off.

They are then distracted by VARIO flying up again, hitting the speakers connected to the gramophone, bringing them along with him as he flies through the roof. While Priscilla has her eyes fixated on VARIO flying away, Suzana pulls up a remote controller and turns on the gramophone.

Meanwhile, VARIO has stopped high up in the air, and is now about to fall back down.

"Well, at least things couldn't be getting any worse than this..." said VARIO and starts falling back down. Unfortunately for him, with both speakers surrounding him, the music heard in the episode "It's been a hard day's noise" from Oggy and The Cockroaches starts playing at a extremely high volume, making VARIO's ears about to fall off.

Back down on the platforms, VARIO then falls back down to where Priscilla and Suzana last fought each other. The gramophone has already been turned off by now. VARIO gets up and starts to waddle off, but suddenly hops in rhythm to the part of the tune that's still heard in his brain on repeat. VARIO doesn't see where he's going and falls down onto the stage again just besides the band who's still playing.

"Ouwch... that really hurt..." said VARIO and starts hopping in rhythm to the tune in his head while still sitting in his spot.

"I'm starting to wonder what that guy is really up to, what with all the falling down all the time..." Emma thought to herself and keeps playing with the band.

Back on the platform, Priscilla is now looking around for Suzana. Suzana seems to have hidden herself pretty well, because Priscilla can't find her that easily.

"Where is she?? I know she ran off to someplace, but I seem to have lost her... anyway, I wonder where VARIO is. I haven't seen him in a while." said Priscilla. Just then she sees him coming.

"Ah there you are. I started to wonder if you got knocked out or something." said Priscilla.

"I had a bit of a shakeup after my ears got blasted with loud music. It took a while for the rhythmic hops to stop, but now I'm ready to take Suzana on again!" said VARIO. Just after saying this though he hops one last time to the music still playing in his ears.

"Sigh... are you done now?" asked Priscilla. VARIO feels his own body to make absolutely sure.

"I... think I am... phew, it's finally stopped! ... let's go and stop Suzana once and for all!!" said VARIO.

"I agree. She needs to be taught a thing or two about messing with guys like you and me!" said Priscilla and sets off together with VARIO to track Suzana down.

A moment later they see Suzana at some spot working on some sort of thing. They can already tell that it's looking no good.

"My garlic, Suzana seems to have been constructing on something very nasty!" said VARIO.

"Agreed! Whatever it is she's been making, we've got to stop her!" said Priscilla.

"Hey Suzana!!" VARIO shouted out to her.

"What? Oh, you guys again!" said Suzana.

"What is that thing you're working on??" asked VARIO.

"Yeah. It looks pretty nasty to me!" said Priscilla.

"You guys are too late, and regarding my thing, you wouldn't wanna know about it, but I'm telling you anyway; It's basically a large bomb that I've been making, which I intend to REALLY "Spice things up" with!!" said Suzana. VARIO and Priscilla doesn't like the sound of it. Before they can do anything, Suzana pulls out a needle and intentionally drops it on the floor.

The sound coming from the needle as it hits the floor makes VARIO grind his teeth in pain and fly up, his shoes and overalls being the only thing left standing in their spot. VARIO then lands on the floor besides his overalls and shoes, now only in his underwear and cap.

"Oops... um, w-will you all excuse me for a moment?" said VARIO and takes his clothes and goes off-screen.

"Aah ha ha ha haa!! Talk about really being "out of your own clothes"!" said Suzana and keeps laughing at the sight. She then stops to see where Priscilla has gone off to.

"Hm, weird. I could swear that little brat was with him a moment ago!" said Suzana and keeps looking around. With her back turned, Suzana then gets pushed down by Priscilla from behind.

"Ok my little look-alike thief and occasional-troublemaker, your little fun is over!!" said Priscilla.

"Aha, so that's where you went! But how come the noise didn't affect you!?" said Suzana in surprise.

"I could already foresee something like this happening, so I put on some ear plugs before we even came! Anyway, get ready to taste this!!" said Priscilla and dives towards Suzana, starting yet another fight between them.

VARIO meanwhile, has just gotten his clothes back on. Before he can even do anything Priscilla and Suzana rolls over and bumps into him, making him fall down again.

"Aw garlic, not again!!!" said VARIO and falls down from the platform.

Down at the seats, the music is still ongoing, with Calimero and friends digging to the tune. Wario-Ware-Man meanwhile, is wondering where VARIO went off to.

"Hm, I'm getting a bit worried over VARIO now. He's been on the toilets for more than a few hours now, and the music is about to finish soon." said Wario-Ware-Man.

"Maybe he's having some personal problems or something? I mean, why else would he be staying in the toilet for more than an hour??" Warrio theorized.

"I find it highly unlikely. If he doesn't come back in a minute, then you and I better go and look for him." said Wario-Ware-Man. Just after saying this though VARIO falls down head first in his seat.

"Wow, a VARIO just fell down head first on the seat where our brother is supposed to sit, and he looks just like our VARIO too!" said Warrio in surprise.

"Warrio, stop joking and help me get him out of the seat!" Wario-Ware-Man told him.

After some strength they then get his head out and VARIO takes a moment to think where he is right now.

"We started to think you were stuck in the toilets or something. What made you take so long to get back, and why were you falling into your seat all of a sudden?!" said Wario-Ware-Man.

"Suzana is making a racket in the theatre, and me and Priscilla are trying to put an end to her plans!" said VARIO.

"What? Have they already let her out of jail?? It wasn't that long ago she was last locked up!" said Wario-Ware-Man in surprise.

"She never really learns from her acts, does she??" said Warrio in wonder.

"Where is Suzana now?" Wario-Ware-Man asked VARIO.

"She's up there!" said VARIO and points up to the platform where Priscilla and Suzana are rolling around.

"Well, I can see that Priscilla is having a tough time up there!" said Wario-Ware-Man.

"Do you need any help?" Warrio asked VARIO.

"Me and Priscilla can handle it just fine, thank you. Now if you excuse me, I really need to get back up there!" said VARIO and gets off of his seat to go back up to the platform again.

"What's all the fuss about??" Calimero asked Wario-Ware-Man.

"Suzana, the town's residential thief and Priscilla-look-alike, is out making chaos again!" Warrio told him.

"How fiendish of her! Shouldn't we go and stop her, don't you think?!!" said Calimero.

"Don't worry. VARIO and Priscilla are taking care of her, so I don't think any of us needs to take any action." Wario-Ware-Man assured him.

"I'm still feeling a bit unsure over it though, because knowing Suzana, she'll probably make garlic stew out of him before he can even twitch his own mustache." said Warrio.

"I'm not too worried over it Warrio. But I do share your concerns regarding the outcome of it all... let's just hope that VARIO and Priscilla succeeds in stopping Suzana before she sabotages the performance." said Wario-Ware-Man.

Meanwhile, VARIO is now back up on the platform, and is holding a wooden hammer in his hands.

"Right, should I come across that thief-slash-criminal again, I'll be the first to lay the blow on her head!" said VARIO and keeps looking for Suzana. Just then he feels the hammer no longer being in his hands.

"But hey, where'd my hammer go??" said VARIO in confusion.

He then feels someone tapping him on his back. VARIO turns around to see Suzana standing in front of him with her hands behind her back.

"Ah, there you are!! ... um, say me. You wouldn't happen to know where my hammer is??" said VARIO.

Suzana just stands still for a short moment, after which she responds to his question by hitting him on the head with his own hammer.

"Hah, what'd you say about that, fatso!" Suzana taunted him.

"Yeow... that trick you just played on me wasn't very funny, and... I WILL get you in one way or another..." said VARIO. He then falls down on the floor, completely unconscious.

"Ha ha ha, how easy it is to hit a fatso just like that!" said Suzana. She then hears a voice from behind.

"But you won't be getting anyway any time, Suzana!" said the voice.

Suzana turns around and sees some kind of super heroine standing in front of her, who is exactly of her size and shape.

"Aha, and WHO are you?" Suzana asked her.

"I, am the Pink Whirlwind! I've been called to put a stop to your plans of sabotaging the music performance!" said the Pink Whirlwind.

"Hah, you won't be able to stop me even if you try to, Pinkie Waft. It is I who will succeed in spicing things up in here!" Suzana laughed her off.

"But I'm gonna prove you wrong, you fiend! I dare you to challenge me in a battle between justice and the no-good!" said the Pink Whirlwind.

"Well of course, I'm more than happy to oblige, my dear little heroine. Now, prepare to meet your match!!!" said Suzana and engages herself in battle against the Pink Whirlwind.

The Pink whirlwind starts by whipping her ribbon band at Suzana. She avoids it though and grabs it with her right.

"Hah, don't think it will be so easy to take me out like that!" said Suzana and hurls the Pink Whirlwind a few times in the air before throwing her into a pipe.

"Ow, how didn't I see that one coming. She's smarter than I thought she would be... anyhow, I'm not gonna let her get the better of me!" said the Pink Whirlwind and runs off, with Suzana coming after her.

"Aha, so you're just gonna run away from me now?? It won't work, because I will find you anyway!" said Suzana and keeps chasing the Pink Whirlwind. She has immediately lost sight of her new foe though and looks around a little. From a pipe just behind Suzana, the Pink Whirlwind appears and gives her a whack with her ribbon band, sending Suzana flying into another pipe.

"OW!!!" said Suzana after getting herself up.

"Alright Suzana. Either you give up now, or you will be facing the might of my whirlwinds!" the Pink Whirlwind taunted her.

"I will NEVER give up on my latest plan! You hear that!!!" said Suzana.

"Alright, then I'll give you a taste of one of my whirlwinds." said Priscilla.

"Um, say... isn't that a spot of dirt on your beak?" said Suzana and points at her beak.

"What? Where??" said the Pink Whirlwind and takes a moment to rub her beak. After she's done wiping her beak clean she is surprised to see Suzana no longer being around.

"Where'd she go??" said the Pink Whirlwind. It doesn't take her long to come to the realization that Suzana's been tricking her.

"That fiend... never would I imagine her being able to trick me like that! Anyway, I better get a move on! Suzana can be pretty much anywhere around this place." said the Pink Whirlwind and sets off to find where Suzana's gone off to.

Moments later, the Pink Whirlwind then finds Suzana scheming away at a corner, having just finished her bomb. Suzana is quick to spot her though.

"Aha, so we meet again Pink Whirlwind. Anyway, you're too late to stop me by this point. My new bomb has already been completed!" said Suzana.

"That's what you think, Suzana. What do you intend to use this bomb for?" said the Pink Whirlwind.

"My plan with it, is to use the bomb NOT to blow up the theatre, but rather cause a explosion of big, terrible notes that will cause the ENTIRE town to become deaf!!" Suzana explained.

"That is beyond terrible!! Why on earth would you do such a thing??" said the Pink Whirlwind.

"Heh heh. It is mostly for my own amusement, but also as payback for the trouble YOU caused me sometime ago!" said Suzana.

"Well that's true, but... HOW do you know about me?!" the Pink Whirlwind wondered.

"I know you are simply Priscilla in a heroic costume. I've heard your voice countless times way before I even saw you in that attire of yours." said Suzana.

"Oh. So a thief will actually KNOW of your identity if he or she has heard your voice millions of times prior to seeing your super hero form. I hadn't considered that... but I won't let that get me down. Suzana, I demand you to NOT use that bomb of yours!!" said the Pink Whirlwind, now referred to as Priscilla due to Suzana already spoiling her identity.

"Hah, I won't do as you say." Suzana refused to comply to her demand, and proceeds to activate the bomb, starting a timer of 5 minutes which is the approximate time it takes for Emma's band to finish performing their music.

"Raah!!" said Priscilla and leaps at Suzana to try and pin her down on the ground.

"So you really want to stop me huh?! Well, we'll see which of us will be the one to pin the other down!!" said Suzana and tries to also push Priscilla down on the ground, with little success.

Back at the seats, the music is about to end fairly soon, and for everyone the performance of Emma and her band has been a great experience.

"You know, despite things happening here and there, the music Emma and her band have been playing has been the biggest highlight of the day!" said Wario-Ware-Man.

"I agree, but I'm still a bit worried about Priscilla." said Calimero. He then looks up to the platform above the stage to see Suzana wrestling against a masked chick in a cape.

"Oh no, Priscilla is up there!!" said Calimero out loud.

"What?? Let me see!" said Valeriano and turns his camera up towards the platform.

"My, that sure IS Priscilla on that platform, fighting someone who appears to be... Suzana?!!" said Valeriano in shock, but carries on filming the scene above the stage.

"What, Suzana?? Impossible!" said Roshita and looks up to the platform and also sees Priscilla up there. By this point everyone in the group are now having their attention fixed at what is going on at the top.

"Sigh... well, there goes the entire performance I suppose... if Suzana gets her way or something else happens, that is." said Wario-Ware-Man and just tries to keep watching Emma's band along with Warrio.

"So Suzana is on the loose again??" asked Maya.

"Yes. Right now she appears to be wrestling against a masked chick up there." said Wario-Ware-Man.

"And from the attire of that masked chick, I know it's Priscilla who's up there." said Maya.

"I wonder which of them will win." said Wario-Ware-Man.

"So do I..." said Maya.

Back at the top, Priscilla and Suzana keep wrestling each other. They have been going at it for quite a while now. The timer on the bomb now reads 02:30, meaning the bomb is closer to start exploding.

"You won't be able to stop me, you little brat!!" Suzana kept telling Priscilla.

"Yes, I will!! And it is YOU who'll be seeing your fun time at this theatre coming to an end!" said Priscilla and keeps wrestling with Suzana. She is eventually pushed down on the floor by Suzana, with Priscilla now lying on her back.

"Alright my ever-so-irritating nemesis. This is where your day of heroism ends!" said Suzana and is about to give Priscilla the biggest beating she's ever seen in her life.

"Don't be so sure of it... hey you, look over there. Behind you!" said Priscilla and points to behind Suzana.

"What?" said Suzana and looks behind her. When she turns her back again she can no longer see Priscilla.

"Hm. Where did she go?" said Suzana.

"Over heere!!" said a voice calling from a different spot. Suzana then sees Priscilla standing in front of her.

"Aha, so that's where you've gone. No matter, I'll give you what for!" said Suzana and is about to run towards Priscilla, only for Priscilla to turn into a whirlwind and reappear in another spot.

"Huh? What in the??" said Suzana and watches as Priscilla keeps teleporting from one spot to another. Suzana is starting to feel rather confused and closes her eyes for a moment. When she opens them again she can't see Priscilla anywhere.

"Hrm... where'd she go now??" said Suzana to herself.

Out of the blue Suzana is then flung into her very own bomb by a whack of Priscilla's ribbon band.

"Ow..." said Suzana while now lying down by her bomb.

"Ok Suzana. Now it is you who should start thinking about giving up on your plan!" said Priscilla who is now standing in front of Suzana.

"Grr... H-HOW in the world do you keep going from one place to another so quick like you did?!" Suzana asked her.

"My super heroine name, "The Pink Whirlwind", actually has an underlying meaning to it." said Priscilla.

"And WHAT meaning would that be??" said Suzana.

"Tee hee, I'm only happy to show it to you." said Priscilla and demonstrates by spinning herself into a pink whirlwind, taking Suzana and her bomb with it and lifting them up in the air. Before Suzana can even say anything she is then sent through the roof along with her bomb. After finishing her whirlwind move Priscilla lands on the ground again.

"Hope you're having a nice flight, my purple little rival!!" Priscilla shouted out to Suzana.

Outside, Suzana is now flying upwards, even higher than VARIO did. She and the bomb eventually stop flying as she crosses the earth's atmosphere.

"Well, at least the bomb hasn't exploded yet." said Suzana. After saying this the bomb explodes, causing the biggest and most terrible noise the cosmos has ever heard. Suzana then falls back down to Earth again.

Meanwhile, at their seats Calimero and the group are now watching the band again, and the music is now about to end in any minute or so.

"I haven't seen Priscilla on the platform in a while now... what if something's happened to her." said Calimero, still worrying over Priscilla's well being.

"I'm sure she will be just fine. She seemed to be handling it all pretty well without our intervention." Valeriano assured him. By this point Emma and her band has now finished their performance and are receiving applause from the public.

"Right. Thank you, thank you!" said Emma while bowing to the applause along with her partner Elmyra. While they keep bowing Suzana lands on the stage, looking completely beaten and rather dizzy. Priscilla then flies down on stage in her super heroine form holding a still-unconscious VARIO in her arms.

"First VARIO keeps falling down on stage, and now this strange little lady also appears! Just what is going on here!?" said Emma in confusion.

"Yeah, and who's that masked little lady??" Elmyra asked herself after seeing Priscilla in her super heroine attire. By this point Calimero and friends has now come up on the stage.

"There has been a act of attempted sabotage going on here!" said Calimero.

"Yeah. This little lady who's sitting down on the floor has been trying to ruin your performance!" said Valeriano and explains the situation to Emma. After hearing the story Emma is suprised and very aghast to hear that Suzana's returned yet again.

"I can't believe that this fiend has decided to try and sabotage our performance!!" said Emma.

"Don't worry Emma. Suzana has been already been dealt with, and will soon be going back home to prison." Priscilla assured her.

Suzana meanwhile, is now very much hearing-impaired due to the extremely high noise her ears suffered from, and hasn't been able to hear a thing of what everyone's saying.

"What are you all saying?? I can't hear a thing!" said Suzana.

"We're talking about you going back to prison soon for the bad things you've been trying to do." Warrio told her.

"Excuse me, but what did you say?" asked Suzana, still not hearing very much, if at all.

"I said, that we will be taking you back to prison soon!!!" Warrio repeated, only in a much louder voice this time.

"What?? I'm sorry, but I can't hear anything!!!" said Suzana.

"Sigh. Might as well just get it over with..." said Warrio and pulls up the arm of his shirt. After the screen pans to the left a punching sound is heard, indicating Warrio knocked her out.

Later, Suzana is now being escorted to the police car outside the music theatre. Inside the police car, Suzana still can't hear anything, and also doesn't seem to act like her usual self.

"So, are you guys taking me to the hospital??" Suzana asked the driver.

"No, we're arresting you for the crime you've been attempting to do, and we're taking you to the police station." said the driver.

"Oh, so you are taking me to some form of rehab then. Maybe a spa even! ... Alright cuties, lead the way!!" said Suzana and just rests her chick feet on the neck of the driver's seat, still not aware of where she's actually going.

"I have no idea as to what's gone into that lady. Have you got any clue, my trusted assistant?" the driver asked his assistant.

"Sorry officer, but I have no clue either." the assistant said, feeling equally clueless.

"Let's just get her to the police already, because she's starting to flirt with us!! For what reason I don't know, but I'm feeling rather uncomfortable with her behavior." said the driver and starts driving the police car.

"You know, after we're finished at the rehab or the spa, maybe we can go out on dinner! I'm sure we'll have lots to talk about. And you guys can tend to my tired feet here. They've been on the move all day, and they're really in need of some tender hands..." said Suzana, still not aware as to what she really is saying, who she is, or if anyone can even hear her.

"Officer, you're right. Let's just get to the police station quick before this lady in the back seat starts thinking of something absolutely weird!" said the assistant.

"I'm driving as fast as I can!!!" said the driver.

Calimero and friends watch as the police car drives off into the distance. With another day of dealing with a criminal put to rest, Calimero and friends are now ready to go home.

"Well. That was sure a bit of a shakeup." said Calimero.

"Yeah. Not only did we get to listen to some good music, we also got to experience some sort of criminality around the place." said Maya.

"The criminality came to be rather shortlived though, because Priscilla and VARIO put a stop to it before Suzana could do much." said Wario-Ware-Man.

"Despite what's happened at the theatre today, I just want to ask you guys what you thought about our music. Was it to your liking?" said Emma.

"We all digged to it Emma. You and your band are the best players around town!" Calimero assured her.

"Yes. It was the best performance I've ever attended in my life, and I would love to go to something similar again!" said Maya.

"Aw, thanks guys!" said Emma, feeling delighted that their music was a hit with everyone. Elmyra Duff then comes, still wearing the clothes she had while playing on stage, and gives Maya a kiss on the cheek.

"You know big bee lady, you guys are always welcome to see me and Emma play at any time. Who knows, maybe we'd even let you join in on our band." said Elmyra.

"Oh, thank you Elmyra. That'd be a very fun thing to do!" said Maya.

"I now take back what I said about Elmyra earlier. She IS more than capable of playing together with a band, and... dare I say it, her playing of the bass guitar was just pure gold!" Warrio admitted.

"Te hee. Thanks puffy mustache'd cap wearing guy!" said Elmyra.

"You're more than welcome!" said Warrio.

After saying their goodbyes Calimero and the group heads back home, with Emma and Elmyra heading their own way.

"Am I the only one who thinks that Emma's band was a delight to listen to?" asked Calimero.

"You're not the only one buddy. I also loved it. It also served as a opportunity for me to film the experience for all of us to remember!" said Valeriano.

"Well, the music sure was good, but... my only disappointment is there was no snacks in there that were to my taste." said Piero. Everyone just laughs at his comment.

"What? Was it something I said??" said Piero to himself.

Wario-Ware-Man meanwhile, just watches Priscilla walking with VARIO in her arms, still wearing her super heroine outfit, cuddling with him rather playfully. He decides not mind it though and sinks into his thoughts.

"Well, it sure has been a real experience today. Emma and her band did a phenomenal performance at the Music Theatre, and Suzana tried her best to sabotage it all. But her plans were stopped in the end. I can only wonder, what new and different things might await us next..." said Wario-Ware-Man and keeps thinking as they're all heading back home.

The End...
