

Lucy's Small Accident

It's a normal day in Lucy's hometown. In the flat where she and her family lives in things carry on the usual way; Lucy's mother is doing household chores like cooking and so on, their dog Flinki is sleeping on the living room carpet, and in her bedroom Lucy's sitting in her bed reading a interesting book. While doing the cooking Lucy's mother hears the doorbell ringing.

"Hm, I wonder who that could be." Mommy said to herself and goes to get the door. After opening the door she sees Jasmine before her eyes.

"Hi there miss... um..." Jasmine stopped, wondering what Lucy's mother name is.

"Oh, hi Jasmine. Just call me Mommy, ok?" Mommy greeted her.

"Oh yeah, I tend to forget your real name's never been known before and even now." Jasmine said.

"So, what brings you here?" Mommy asked her.

"I'm coming over to see Lucy. Is she at home right now?" Jasmine asked.

"Yes Jasmine, Lucy's at home. Please come in." Mommy said and let's Jasmine inside.

"Lucy's in her bedroom." Mommy told Jasmine.

"Alright." Jasmine said and goes into Lucy's room. Still in her bed, Lucy puts her book down to see Jasmine entering her bedroom.

"Jasmine!" Lucy said and gets up from her bed to greet her.

"Hi Lucy." Jasmine greets her back.

"How have you been doing lately?" Lucy asks her.

"Oh, the usual; helping my mother out with everyday tasks and chores at home. I'm also practicing ice skating as of recently." Jasmine said.

"Oh really?? How is it going like?" Lucy asked her.

"Not so well. It's hard keeping your balance while skating on the ice. I'm slowly getting the hang of it though... so, how are you doing Lucy?" Jasmine said.

"Ah you know, trying to come up with lazy ways to do tasks as always. Almost always seem to fail I have to admit, but I'm not giving up though." Lucy said.

"Ah ha ha ha. I can't believe you're still trying to be as lazy as possible after all these years!" Jasmine started to laugh.

"Well, er... I do need some sort of passional hobby you know?" Lucy said.

"Aw, I do understand Lucy. I also understand that you've always been the girl you are, unlike most of us on this planet." Jasmine said.

"So, what are we gonna do today?" Lucy asked Jasmine.

"Well Lucy, I've actually brought something with me today." Jasmine said and starts opening her backpack, wanting to show her something. Lucy wonders what Jasmine has brought with her. A moment later Jasmine finally pulls up a strange-looking toy gun.

"What kind of thing is that Jasmine?" Lucy asked her.

"Oh, it's a toy gun I bought from a toy store earlier today. I've yet to figure out how it works though." Jasmine said and starts messing with the toy gun.

"May I help you figuring it out Jasmine?" Lucy asked her. Jasmine thinks over it briefly.

"Alright Lucy, I think I might be needing your help." Jasmine said and let's Lucy assist her.

In the kitchen Lucy mother is cooking the dinner. She lets the saucepan run for a bit and walks into Lucy's room to see how the girls are doing.

In Lucy's bedroom Lucy and Jasmine are trying to figure out how Jasmine's new toy works. Mommy then shows up by the doorway.

"Hi there girls. What are you playing with?" Mommy asked them.

"We're messing with a new toy Jasmine has brought with her." Lucy said.

"Ah, I see. Do remember that dinner will be ready in an hour or two." Mommy reminded Lucy.

"Alright mommy." Lucy said.

"Would you like to eat as well Jasmine?" Mommy asked Jasmine.

"That's fine with me. I'll be staying here until 8 O'clock at noon." Jasmine said.

"Alright." said Mommy and goes back to the kitchen to keep an eye on the saucepan.

Lucy and Jasmine continue messing about with the toy gun. No matter how much they try though, they're still unable to find out about its use and purpose.

"Naw, it's no use. We're not getting anywhere close to figuring out what to do with it." Jasmine said.

"Just a little thought of mine, but... was any instructions included with the toy?" Lucy suggested.

"No. There was no booklet included." Jasmine said and ponders over the toy gun once more. Eventually they give up.

"You know what Lucy? Let's put this thing aside for a moment and do something else. I can't for the life of me figure out what this toy should be used for." Jasmine said.

"Same here. Given how strange the gun looks along with no instructions on how to play with it, for now the thing's not worth our time." Lucy agreed and is about to begin standing up to stretch herself, unaware that she's still holding on to the toy while Jasmine's having it in her hand.

"Hey Lucy!..." Jasmine said in surprise as she's being dragged up by Lucy. The sudden movement causes Jasmine to accidentally pull the trigger, and out of the toy a beam hits Lucy, making her disappear.

"Where's my glasses?? They fell off my face when I fell down from the sudden reaction..." Jasmine said and keeps searching for her glasses. After finding and putting them back on again Jasmine notices that Lucy's no longer at her spot.

"Oh dear, I can no longer see Lucy in here. I hope something terrible hasn't happened to her!" Jasmine said and starts looking around the bedroom for Lucy.

"Lucy! Luucyy! Where is she??" Jasmine said and keeps looking.

Meanwhile, down on the floor Lucy been unconscious for a few minutes. After waking up again she opens her eyes, and the first thing she sees is a giant foot coming down at her.

"Aaah!!?" Lucy said and jumps out of the way. The foot narrowly miss her though.

"What was that...??" Lucy said to herself and gets back up on her feet again. She then approaches the giant foot and starts to examine it. It isn't until she looks up that she sees the person the foot belongs to.

"It's Jasmine!!" Lucy gasped in surprise as she looks up at Jasmine who's now like a giant compared to her. Jasmine is still looking around for her friend.

"Jasmine! Down here!!" Lucy shouted up to Jasmine to try get her attention. It's no use though. Lucy's too tiny for Jasmine to even hear. Lucy then sees Jasmine wandering out of the room.

"No, wait Jasmine!! I'm here!!" Lucy shouted again and starts running after her. Jasmine's too quick for her to catch up to though, and in just a few seconds she's out of sight. Lucy's not feeling discouraged though.

"I'm gonna try and find her, no matter what! In one way or another I'll get Jasmine's attention!" Lucy said and ventures to find Jasmine.

After making her way out of the bedroom Lucy is aghast to find that the world around her is now much bigger than before.

"Oh dear me, this just feels SOO unreal to me. Everything's so much bigger than I remember it being..." Lucy thought to herself. Despite this it won't stop her from exploring this new world. While exploring the main hall Lucy ends up tripping over and gets stuck between the straws of the carpet.

"Uh oh, things aren't looking so good for me now..." Lucy said to herself and tries to free herself. Unable to get herself free from the carpet Lucy shouts for help. She realizes that no one's coming to help her.

Just then Jasmine comes out from the bathroom, unaware that Lucy's shrunk and stuck in the carpet. Lucy tries to free herself, but the straws of the carpet keeps her in place.

"Come on, let go of me you silly carpet!" Lucy said while still trying to free herself to no avail.

It looks as if Jasmine's going to step on Lucy. She misses Lucy though, and stops right above her, still wondering where Lucy is. The camera stays focused on Jasmine from Lucy's ground level.

"Oh MY! This is a sight I've never really seen before, and probably should never see..." Lucy said to herself in shock and possible embarrassment as she looks up at Jasmine. The skirt is covering Jasmine's undergarments at all times during this moment.

"Sigh. Where has Lucy gone to?? I've looked for her everywhere and yet I can't seem to find her." Jasmine said to herself.

After looking around the main hall Jasmine heads into the living room to see if Lucy's in there. Just after that Lucy's mother comes out of the kitchen to tell the girls that the dinner is ready. Mommy has just taken off her shoes.

"Girls, dinner is ready!" Mommy called out.

"Ok!" Answered Jasmine after going back out to the hall again.

"Is Lucy coming to eat as well?" Mommy asked Jasmine out of curiosity because she can't see Lucy in her bedroom.

"Um... S-she's gone out for a little walk. She will be back soon." Jasmine glumly replied.

While Jasmine and Mommy are conversing Lucy's trying very hard to get herself out from under Mommy's foot.

"Gnn... Aah... my mother sure likes going barefoot, but I've no idea that her feet could be so heavy..." Lucy said to herself in a muffled voice while trying to get herself out. Lucy's constant wriggling and twisting only has the effect of her mother readjusting her foot, burying Lucy further down into the carpet.

"Alright then, come into the kitchen and have a seat." Mommy told Jasmine.

After Jasmine and Lucy's mother have gone into the kitchen Lucy once again tries to break free from the carpet. She eventually gets herself free and tries to find a way out of the carpet, being careful not to get herself tangled up again.

"Wow, now that was an experience I hadn't felt in my entire life before. Anyway, I better get going. I've really got to find Jasmine and get her attention." Lucy said and after getting out of the carpet resumes her search for Jasmine.

Lucy's mother comes out of the kitchen, now wearing sandals. To Lucy's relief Mommy's heading into the bathroom. But it isn't long until Mommy comes out of the bathroom again with a bucket of soap and mop.

"Uh-oh. Mommy's going to start cleaning the floors..." Lucy thought to herself. Mommy picks up the carpet in the main hall and puts it on a chair nearby. She puts the bucket down and puts the mop into the bucket to get some soapy water on it.

"There. Now with the dinner done I can finally start cleaning the house." Mommy said and starts cleaning the floor with the mop. She immediately heads Lucy's way.

"Oh no, she's heading towards me. I better run away quickly!!" Lucy said and tries to outrun the mop, but it immediately catches her, with Lucy becoming stuck to it.

Mommy keeps mopping the floor in the main hall, unaware that she's now sweeping her daughter across the floor with her mop.

"Aah. The floor is certainly starting to look cleaner now." Mommy said while humming to a tune as she keeps moping the floor.

In the kitchen, Jasmine is now tugging in on her meal. She's still wondering where Lucy went earlier in the day.

"I just don't know where Lucy's gone. All I know is that Lucy was with me when that accident happened, but other than that I'm not sure, and not being able to find her anywhere is making me feel more and more concerned..." Jasmine keeps thinking to herself.

"How is the dinner Jasmine?" Mommy asked her from the living room.

"It's alright, Mommy!!" Jasmine answered her. She keeps thinking over what exactly happened to Lucy in the bedroom when they were messing with Jasmine's toy gun. Unable to think of anything reasonable she resumes eating her dinner.

Meanwhile, in the living room Mommy is mopping the floor, with Lucy still tangled up under the floor mop.

"Just great. As if this day couldn't be getting any worse than being mopped across the floor by a big mop..." Lucy thought to herself. She then starts shrinking to the size of a small marble, if only a bit smaller than that.

"I... I now just shrunk again?? Wait... now that I'm smaller, I'm no longer stuck between the strands of the mop. Does it mean that...?" Lucy started to wonder, but before she can finish thinking Lucy suddenly feels how she's being swept back and forth in the air. Rather than being tangled up, she's now stuck to one of the mop's strands due to all the soapy water.

Lucy keeps being swung back and forth by the mop's movements, now starting to feel a bit sick.

"Ooh, I think I'm about to throw up if my mom doesn't stop mopping anytime soon..." Lucy said to herself. Before she knows it though Lucy suddenly comes off the mop's strand, and is thrown up into the air by the swift movement of the mop.

"Aaah!!" Lucy screamed as she's sent up in the air. She then falls down right into Mommy's left sandal between her toes. Deep between her toes Lucy is seen stuck in there.

"Oh, just great. First I get trapped under my mom's sole, and now I'm stuck between her toes! I really have to get out of here..." Lucy said and tries to get herself out, but her efforts are in vain because Mommy's toes keeps her in place.

"Oh dear. This is not good. I'm really stuck here..." Lucy said to herself.

"I really wonder where my Lucy darling has gone. She usually isn't this late for dinner." Mommy said and keeps cleaning the living room floor.

Later at noon, Jasmine is now sitting on Lucy's bed, thinking over the accident that happened. Lucy's mother just passes by the doorway only to notice Jasmine sitting in Lucy's bed.

"Um, Jasmine. Why are you sitting in here? Is something wrong?" Mommy asked her.

"Oh, I'm just waiting for Lucy to come back, that's all." Jasmine said.

"Oh, alright... are you sure something's not wrong? Would you like to have something?" Mommy asked her.

"I assure you things are ok Mommy. And yes, I'd like a glass of Cherry juice please." Jasmine said.

"Alright then." Mommy said and goes to the kitchen to fix some cherry juice for Jasmine. After giving the juice glass to Jasmine Mommy then sits down at the table in the kitchen, with the chair she's sitting on turned slightly to the side.

"Sigh. I'm starting to wonder where Lucy really are. I mean, it is very unlike her to not arrive back home, even as noon is starting to near." Mommy started to wonder. She then crosses her left leg over her right leg, and starts to dangle her foot while relaxing.

"Oh well, maybe she has simply forgotten about the time or something, and is probably on her way back home now... at least I hope that is the case." Mommy said and keeps sitting on the chair. While dangling her left foot she then feels something between her toes.

"Hm? What's that I'm feeling?" Mommy stopped and takes a closer look at her left foot.. After looking at the middle two toes she spots something quite familiar to her; between the toes is Lucy, smaller than them.

"Lucy, is that you?? How did you get so small, and HOW did you end up in there??" Mommy asked her in surprise. Without hesitating Lucy tells Mommy the whole story.

"So while you girls were playing you got shrunk somehow, and while trying to get our attention I stepped on you with my left foot, and while I was cleaning the flat you got stuck in the floor mop, and then you ended up between my toes where you remained for the rest of the day?!" Mommy said in complete wonder.

"Yeah, that's pretty much what happened." Lucy said.

"Oh dear. I'm soo, soo sorry for having done all that to you! I didn't even know you were still in here. I'll get you out of my toes as soon as possible!" Mommy said and is about to reach down with her fingers to get Lucy out.

"No mommy, no. I'm alright!" Lucy told her.

"Really? But, what if I accidentally crush you!" Mommy said in worry.

"Please mommy, I just want to remain where I am right now. I'm too tired and worn out from all the mopping around. Besides, your toes kinda protected me while I was in there." Lucy said.

"Oh, so my toes actually protected you??" Mommy asked her.

"Yes. At first I was afraid I was gonna be crushed in there, but I later realized that your toes were so soft and comfy that I decided not to worry. As you can see I'am fine, but a bit tired." Lucy said.

"Oh, I see now. Well then, for how long do you want to remain between my toes?" Mommy asked.

"Suppose I'll be staying in there for the rest of the night, if that's fine with you." Lucy said.

"Oh, really?" Mommy said and starts to blush a little upon hearing this. "Well Lucy, then I'll let you be in there for the night."

"Ah, thanks mommy." Lucy said.

"You're welcome dear. Jasmine!!" Mommy called to Jasmine.

"Yes Mommy, what is it?" Jasmine asked after running into the kitchen.

"I've found my daughter now, in a very odd and special place." Mommy said.

"Ah great! Where is she?" Jasmine asked out of curiosity.

"Look between my toes..." Mommy said calmly and shows her left foot to Jasmine and points down to her middle toes.

"Lucy's tiny and between her mother's toes??" Jasmine asked herself in confusion. Mommy tells her the story Lucy's just told Mommy.

"Ah, I see now. But still... are you ok Lucy?" Jasmine asked.

"I'm doing just fine Jasmine." Lucy assured her.

"But... shouldn't we be getting you out of there?? What if your mother crushes you while you're in her foot!?" Jasmine said.

"Lucy will be fine Jasmine. I will take good care not to crush her. She's feeling too tired and exhausted to even be flung around anymore from place to place, so she needs all the rest she can get." Mommy said.

"Oh, alright. If you say so... well, since she's probably been through so much today, I suppose Lucy won't mind being where she is right now." Jasmine agreed.

"So, are you going home now Jasmine?" Mommy asked her.

"I think I'll be sleeping here tonight. I also need to find a way to reverse Lucy back to normal size tomorrow." Jasmine said.

"Of course you can stay Jasmine. As usual I've got nothing against it. You're only welcome to stay here for a sleepover." Mommy said.

"Thanks Mommy." Jasmine thanked Lucy's mother.

Later it's time for lullabies, and everyone in the flat is going to bed. Lucy sleeps with Mommy inside her foot in Mommy's bedroom while Jasmine sleeps in Lucy's bedroom.

"There Lucy. Are you comfy between my toes?" Mommy asked her.

"Never been feeling more comfy in my life before, mom..." Lucy said and starts drifting off to sleep.

"That's good to hear my dear. Hope you'll be having sweet dreams." Mommy told Lucy and goes to sleep.

In Lucy's bedroom Jasmine about to go the bed, but then starts to worry about Lucy. Feeling concerned for her friend, Jasmine goes into Mommy's bedroom.

"Um, Mommy..." Jasmine said while standing by the doorway.

"Yes Jasmine, what is it?" Mommy asked.

"Er... would it be ok if I sleep with you? I'm just feeling a bit concerned for my friend." Jasmine said.

"Oh that's fine with me. You can sleep with us." Mommy said.

"Alright, thank you." Jasmine said, and after laying herself down on the right side of Mommy's bed Jasmine goes to sleep. Mommy looks over to where Jasmine is sleeping and smiles.

"Well. It sure has been an very odd day for all of us. Never did I believe that Lucy would have gone through all of that stuff... still, I'm glad she's alright despite that... Yaawn, maybe I should also go to sleep now. I hope my daughter is all well down there..." Mommy said and giggles a little. After putting out the light she then goes to sleep.
